David Lundin, a former General Motors executive who took early retirement in 2000, was not quite ready for permanent retirement, so he decided to open a Molly Maid residential cleaning service franchise in Waterford Township. Lundin opened up for business in May to serve the residents of Waterford and Clarkston.

“We help consumers regain control of their households and free time by providing professional, reliable home cleaning services that are tailored to each customer’s lifestyle,” he said.

Molly Maid sends a trained team of two home cleaning professionals, dressed in the distinctive Molly Maid uniform, arriving in the company’s distinctive blue car with the pink Molly Maid logo, equipped with all cleaning equipment and supplies. Each Molly Maid cleaning professional is required to complete an extensive quality training program before visiting customers' homes. In addition, all employees are screened, fully bonded and properly insured, providing the utmost peace-of-mind for customers.

“We provide the most thorough home cleaning services, known as Molly Maid’s ‘Pink Glove Treatment.’

After each visit, we want our customers to enjoy walking around their house, admiring the shine and wonder how they ever got along without us,” Lundin said.

Not only will Lundin be helping keep local homes clean, the Molly Maid of Waterford will also be giving back to the communities it serves through the Ms. Molly Foundation, established in 1996. This non-profit foundation supports victims of domestic violence and their families. Since its inception, the foundation has raised more than $725,000 for local domestic violence shelters throughout the United States and Canada.
